In Brief

Water rates

At last week's meeting, the Romulus City Council discussed a proposed 25-percent boost in water charges for city residents that would begin Dec. 1 of this year.

The increase would be assessed to defray additional costs passed on to Romulus by the city of Detroit.

Auction

Wayne County Sheriff's Department will hold its annual auction at 9 a.m., Wed., Sept. 24 behind the Sheriff's Road Patrol Offices, 3100 Henry Ruff.

A wide assortment of items that have been confiscated, recovered but not claimed from thefts or losses will be auctioned off. Further information may be obtained by contacting the Sheriff's Department at 721-2222.

Hundreds of small school desks and chairs and obsolete fire fighting equipment head the list of the many items to be auctioned off by the city and school district on Saturday, September 27, 1980 beginning at noon at fire station no. 1, located at the intersection of Bibbins and Shook streets in Romulus.

The combined affair offers buyers many other interesting and rare pieces supplied by the two bodies, including typewriters, vehicles, including a 1943 fire truck in good condition, hand calculators, freezers, a bulldozer, and much more.

Seniors trip

Senior citizens of the Belleville and Romulus areas have planned a trip to Hawaii Nov. 1-15. Four islands will be visited. For additional information, call Marilyn Masters, 941-0666, or Chuck Fecay, Adventure Travel Service, 699-5400.

Pretty as a picture

Anne Sampson, 14, a sophomore at Belleville High School, holds plaque and blue ribbon denoting first place at the recent Michigan State Fair for her entry in the youth division of oil paintings. When only nine years old, Anne became one of the youngest students to take instruction at Bentley's Nursery and Crafts in Van Buren Township. She plans to become an artist in adult life. Anne is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Gary Sampson of Van Buren Township. Her father owns and operates Adventure Travel Service, Fourth and Main streets, Belleville. (ANP photo.)

Governor's okay paves the way

Voters to decide fate of 4-year terms for officials

Last-minute approval by Gov. William Milliken will permit placing of a proposal before Romulus voters Nov. 4 on whether elected city officials should serve four-year terms.

Clerk Leonard J. Folmar said Monday that his office finally got word from Milliken giving his okay on the ballot proposal at the general election.

If Milliken had not approved the proposal for placement on the ballot, Folmar said the city council could have voted to accomplish the same objective.

But, the latter method would have been more cumbersome, said the clerk. If work had not come from the governor, the city council had scheduled a special session last night to take action on its own.

Folmar said the council will set two public hearings which will be held before the November election to

Victims in critical condition

Robbery suspect's car strikes Romulus teens

Three teen-agers, two from Romulus, were injured, one critically, after the car they were riding in was struck by a suspected armed robber who was fleeing Westland police officers Saturday afternoon.

In critical condition at Wayne County General Hospital is Teresa Fyfe, 17, the driver of the car. Also injured and listed in fair condition at the same hospital were her sister, Diane, 14, and Cynthia Claxton, 17, of Inkster.

Officers had received a report of an armed robbery at the Janel Florist Shop, 2724 S. Newburgh Road at about 4:50 p.m. Saturday. Witnesses were able to supply the police with a description of the suspect's car and its license plate number.

According to Westland Police detectives, the suspect's vehicle was spotted heading eastbound on Palmer Road at Wayne Road, where the chase began. The suspect, a 28-year-old Taylor man, fled at a high rate of speed.

The chase continued down Palmer Road to the Venoy Road intersection, where the suspect's car collided with the Fyfe car, a 1970 Ford Torino, which was turning left off northbound Venoy onto westbound Palmer Road.

Police detectives are withholding the suspect's name, pending the issuance of warrants for his arrest. He also was injured in the crash, and was admitted to the county hospital in serious condition.

Get involved

City seeks 'Brush Off' volunteers

"Brush Off", a cooperative cleanup effort set for Saturday, Sept. 20, by the city of Romulus and the Romulus Beautification Committee, hopefully will clear most of the community of dead branches and limbs left by the savage storm of July 16.

According to Jay Young, the city's public information officer, volunteer workers will meet at 8 a.m. at the DPW building, 34100 Goddard Rd.

From there, they will fan out across the city in a massive effort to rid the community of storm debris, he said.

Mayor William M. Oakley asked that residents bring equipment with them such as trucks, trailers, lawboys, or other suitable vehicles.

"Residents will be given a specific area to clean up, assigned to a work crew, and then directed to one of several disposal sites located in Romulus," explained Young.

Noting that the cleanup drive is scheduled to last all day, he said volunteers are requested to work as long as they can, even if for only a few hours.

He reminded residents that they should bring gloves as brush and branches can cause scratches.

"We need everyone: boy and girl scouts, senior citizens, club and organization members, ball players, neighbors, and city men and women," said Young.

For additional information, he said residents should call 941-0666, extension 213.

'Brush Off'

Midge Prybyla, chairman of the Romulus Beautification Committee, and Robert Plank, assistant director of the Romulus DPW, hold poster made by sixth-grade students at Barth Elementary School advertising next Saturday's "Brush Off" cleanup drive of storm debris.

Similar posters were made by students at Beverly, Halecreek and St. Aloysius elementary schools and distributed to local businesses to publicize the massive drive by volunteer workers. The drive will start at 8 a.m. and continue throughout the day.

$500 reward offered

Thieves steal $6,000 in auto tools, tires

The owner of a Romulus gas station is offering a $500 reward for the arrest and conviction of burglars who broke into his station and made off with $6,000 worth of auto tools and tires.

The owner Fred Sirhan, of 37385 Northline Rd., told detectives from Wayne County Sheriff's Department that the thieves broke into the station between 2 a.m. and 11 a.m. Friday. He said the culprits made off with a huge quantity of new tires and a large amount of tires.

Sirhan said the total costs of the items ranged $6,000.

The thieves apparently got into the building by smashing a window. They then proceeded to ransack it. Anyone with any information about the break-in should telephone the Wayne County Sheriff's Department.

It's applefest time in New Boston

New Boston area residents will turn out Oct. 3, 4 and 5 for their annual New Boston Applefest, complete with parade, arts and crafts, canoe race, Rotary Club marathon race, food and drinks, Fire Dept. water ball fight, talent show, selection of festival king and queen, clowns, street fair, bicycle race, childrens games, dan-

CETA job terminations OK: Hogan

Rumors surrounding the termination of 12 Romulus CETA employees Oct. 1, 1980 were set straight Monday by Patrick Hogan, community development director.

The 12 employees were all given a year's extension last year in September by CETA after working the allowable maximum of 18 months.

Word circulating at Romulus City Hall last week was that some of the 12 affected CETA employees had worked for the city as long as six years and that the city had illegally shifted them from one CETA title fund to another to keep them funded by the federal agency.

"It's entirely possible that some of these employees were shifted from one CETA title fund to another," said Hogan. "But, it was perfectly legal as long as the employee met eligibility requirements in each job classification."

Hogan said Romulus has been receiving funds under Title II and Title VI from CETA. He explained, "Some time the funds in Title II would be short, but those in Title VI would be full, so we switched employees from one to the other."

Hogan added that the reverse could also be true and that employees would be changed from Title VI to Title II. In some years, the city had funds available only from one of the two title fund sources, he pointed out.

Nankin Mills and the Ford Connection

By MONA GRIGG
Westland Historical Commission

Henry Ford had created a monster. His efficient assembly line and process had increased production to the point where factories were working full force 24 hours a day, spewing forth hot steam and choking smoke, and workers were being forced to live in cramped quarters, paying exorbitant city prices for goods they ordinarily could have produced themselves.

Ford was a country boy himself, and felt as stifled as his subordinates at times. Ford found to his dismay that increasing production, putting the emphasis on the performance of the machines, was doing nothing for the morale of his workers. He began looking to the country for the answer.

In 1918 he found, and promptly bought, the Nankin Grist Mill from the owner and millkeeper, Floyd Bassett. In 1920 (in defense of his Village Industries, I would guess) Ford said, "It is not the advantages of the cities that are doomed, but the disadvantages — the congestion, the inequality which reigns even in the matter of air and sunlight and ground space.

The advantages of the country are natural; and the advantages of the city are human; when both are fused, as they are being fused, the cities lose in large degree their justification for existence. When they bring their best to the country, the work is done."

In all, Henry Ford bought and put into use nine hydroelectric plants throughout southeastern Michigan.

All of the plants were either fully or partly driven by waterpower. To show people that hydropower was effective, the turbines and generators were usually in glass enclosed annexes where visitors could watch the machinery in action.

Nankin Mills became a fine engraving and small tool and die factory and most of its employees were local farmers. The new factory made it possible for them to continue their country life, but with the added benefit of a steady source of income ($6.00 a day to start).

Rule number one at all the small plants was that "any man may leave at any time to work on the farm; (and) may have his job back, barring shutdowns, when he gets through farming."

Ford took an interest in, and assumed responsibility for, the communities in which his village industries were located. He furnished water, and later electricity, for Nankin, and provided a school for its students.

The Nankin Mills School was built and paid for (and patterned after the Perrinsville School on the corner of Warren and Cowan) by the Ford Motor Company. The school and its students were the envy of parents in surrounding communities.

Long, mournful letters are on file at the Ford Archives from parents begging to have their children enrolled there, but the school was maintained strictly for school-age children of the Nankin Mills employees.

The dedication took place in July.

City, schools show united front

Mayor Oakley will seek state fund for 'airport's nuisance'

Romulus Mayor William M. Oakley Monday pledged his "enthusiastic and wholehearted support" of school Supt. William Bedell's goal to seek state funds for the nuisance caused by Detroit Metro Airport to local residents.

Last week, Dr. Bedell said one of the concessions won by the local school district in its new 3-year pact with teachers was state-wide support of the Michigan Education Association (MEA) to change state legislation to get the airport compensation.

He said the MEA pledged to help the city and local school district work to have state legislation altered so that Romulus can receive funds like other communities which have horse race tracks.

Oakley, who said he has long been an opponent of the airport's continued expansion, said he welcomed the new approach taken by Dr. Bedell.

The MEA and its national counterpart, the National Education

(NEA) have grown in recent years to become influential in political clout as well as strong in membership.

In recent years, the city and the school district had combined forces in waging losing costly legal battles to stop airport construction.

Oakley commented, "This new legislative approach holds out the possibility of some definite gains on behalf of our community and I am hopeful our legislators will give the matter top priority."

Romulus is represented by Rep.

Edward Mahalak in the State House and by Majority Leader Sen. William Faust in the Senate.

Oakley also said that he was much impressed with Bedell and his "fresh and forthright approach to problem-solving and the manner in which he has handled his job since coming to Romulus only a few months ago."

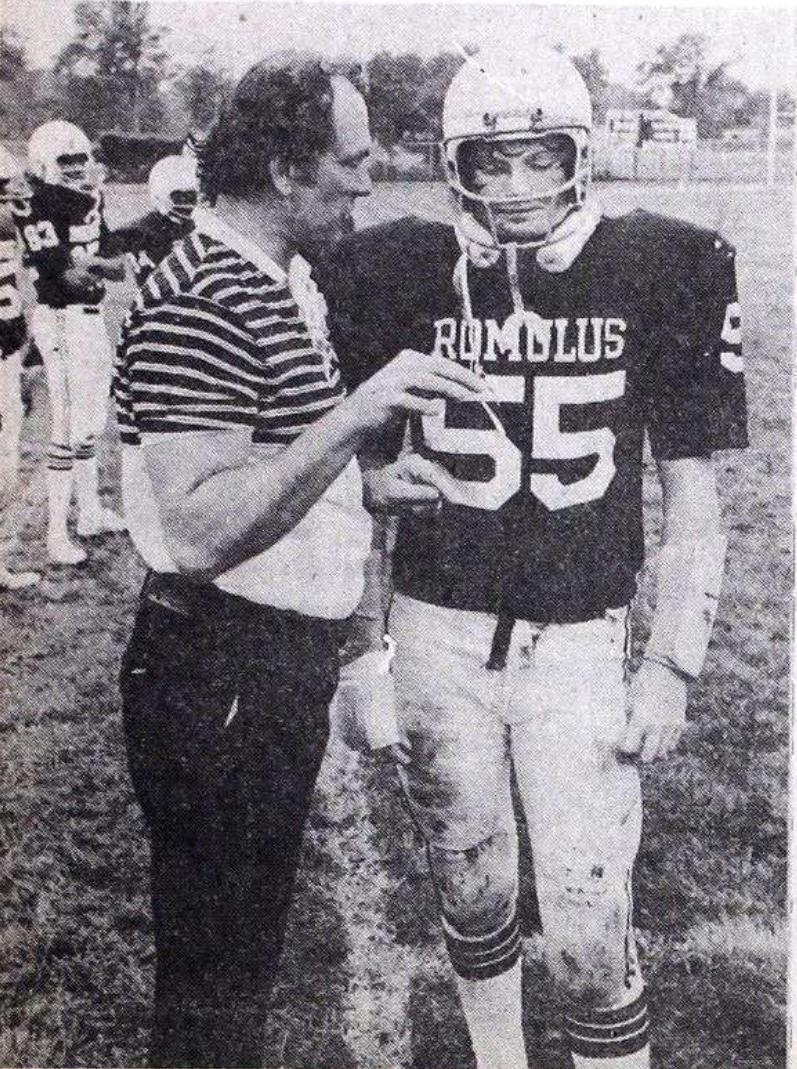

Bedell has compared the Romulus situation to cities such as Hazel Park and Livonia which have race tracks located within their boundaries.

According to Bedell, these cities receive upwards of $1 million in nuisance compensation from the racing facilities, as well as $1 million in local taxes each.

In a speech before the Romulus Rotary Club last week, Bedell said, "If those cities (Hazel Park and Livonia) can receive money for the existence of race tracks which are a nuisance, certainly the city of Romulus is entitled to compensation for an airport which poses a much greater nuisance by its presence."

Race tracks at least don't pollute the air, with unbearable noise and fumes and certainly don't pose a safety hazard as does the airport," Bedell concluded.

Although any financial breakthrough won by the school district in this matter would probably benefit the city most directly, Bedell said he considers the money all part of the public funds used to support both the school and city and therefore will eventually benefit the school system as well.

Jam session

Discussing the pros and cons of their strategy against Garden City East are assistant coach Terry Bird and Colin Durham who was a key link in Romulus' 7-0 victory over the visiting Garden City East Panthers Friday.

Eagle gridders post first victory

It was a victory that Coach Don Foley, his staff, and the Romulus Eagles needed.

"I was very pleased with our defensive effort — our entire team put everything into this one," Coach Foley said after his Eagles knocked off a strong Garden City East team, 7-0. "We were greatly improved both on defense as well as offense."

"But we made mistakes and those mistakes are costing us," he added.

Those mistakes totaled 90 yards (for 11 infractions) in penalties alone.

Not only did Romulus have to overcome a stubborn East defense, but it also had to fight the elements. There was a constant drizzle throughout the game, making it rough on the ballcarriers.

Moreover, Romulus didn't get on the scoreboard until the final two minutes of the game. It was a 25-yard pass from quarterback Marty Knight to Dale Eddings that stood up as the margin of victory. Knight also booted the extra point.

Romulus launched its victory drive from its own 15 yard line and Knight chose to go to the air. He completed three passes, two of them to Mark Schick, a split end, for a total of 18 yards, which counted for back-to-back first downs.

What did East in and vaulted Romulus to victory was a nine yard pass then the 25-yard TD strike to Eddings with 1:52 left in the game.

Romulus threatened on two separate occasions when they drove to the East 15 from their own 45, but a penalty destroyed further advances. In the fourth quarter they maneuvered to the East 20, but a pass interference call against the Eagles nullified their chances.

John Holifield turned in with 52 yards on 15 attempts, while Schick had eight (of 13) receptions for 68 yards. Eddings caught three passes for 40 yards and a touchdown. He also recovered a fumble.

Aaron Johnson spearheaded the Romulus defense as the senior tackle was credited with seven solos and an assist — Johnson also pounced on a fumble; Jeff Wensko, a defensive end had four solos and three sacks of the quarterback while capt. Randy Champagne managed to get five solos, and also a fumble recovery.

Romulus heads for Ann Arbor Huron Friday night for its first night game of the season. Both teams enter the battle with identical 1-1 records.

Eagle on the wing

Finding some running room is sophomore Romulus' back John Rupert who leaves a couple of Panthers from Garden City East in the wake. Rains which caused slippery turf turned the non-league grid battle into a defensive duel that ended in a 7-0 Romulus victory.

Civil Service for city employees?

For the second time in eight years, Romulus voters will be asked to decide whether city employees should be placed under the jurisdiction of a Civil Service System.

Back in 1972, city voters turned down a similar Civil Service program by a slim margin, said Clerk Leonard J. Folmar.

At the Nov. 4 general election, city residents will be asked to vote on whether a prepared Civil Service ordinance should be adopted by the city council as called for in the city charter.

If voters give the nod and council approves the ordinance, all 104 non-supervisory city employees will come under the new CS system.

However, 14 supervisors and department heads and two directors serving under personal contracts will not be subject to CS provisions.

Also exempt from CS will be all elected officials, members of city boards and commissions, judges, deputy clerk, deputy treasurer, and administrative secretaries to the mayor, clerk and treasurer.

As provided in the CS ordinance, the program would be administered by an executive head called the director of personnel. With the recommendation of the mayor, the director and CS Commission will establish personnel policies for city employees.

months;

4) Keeping performance records of all CS employees to determine salary increases, job promotions, and order of layoffs;

5) Disciplinary measures such as suspension, demotions, or discharges and appeals of those measures.

6) Establishing hours of employment, holidays and attendance regulations;

7) Establishing fringe benefits such as insurance programs, retirement and leave policies;

8) Programs to improve work effectiveness, including training, safety, health, welfare, counseling, recreation and employee relations.

Under the ordinance, a five-member CS Commission would be appointed by the city council. Two of the members would be city employees, one of whom will be a member but not an officer of a union representing city employees, and three private citizens.

The commission members would serve four-year terms except for the first term in office, during which period members will serve staggered terms of one, two, three and four years.

An appeal procedure will be established under the CS ordinance that can be held before the entire membership of the CS Commission.

The CS ordinance would prohibit political activities of CS employees during hours of employment. CS employees also can join or not join employee organizations without fear of penalty or reprisal for the purpose of collective bargaining.

However, CS employees who file a grievance under their union cannot file a grievance under the CS program or have the union file a grievance on their behalf with the city.

The CS ordinance also makes unlawful false statements, taking of money in exchange for consideration of an appointment, or help or defeat any person's right to examination, eligibility, or certification or appointment under the CS program.

Persons who are found guilty of violating provisions of the CS program or policies are subject to a fine of $500 or 90 days in jail or both.

Senior citizens housing complex for Van Buren?

Van Buren Township voters will be asked to vote Nov. 4 on whether 3 to 5 acres of Van Buren Park can be sold by the township for the site of a senior citizens housing development.

The township board voted unanimously last week to place the following question on the ballot at the general election:

"Shall the township of Van Buren be allowed to sell not less than three acres nor more than five acres of real property from the parcel commonly known as Van Buren Park so that there can be developed thereon a residential family subsidized housing facility for senior citizens?"

The board acted after a petition signed by eight senior citizens was turned in asking for the placement of the question on the ballot.

Swift action was necessary as Sept. 16 (yesterday) was the last day that the township could request county approval for the ballot question in time for the general election.

Last week before the township board meeting, a representative of the Michigan State Housing Development Authority (MSHDA) visited the 101-acre park.

MSHDA approval is needed to pave the way for federal funding to pay for the housing complex. The MSHDA said he would report back only if it was determined that the site was unacceptable for housing development.

MSHDA approval is also necessary for senior citizens occupants of the housing complex when built to secure rent subsidies from the federal government, said Sup. Pat Cullin.

During discussion at the board session, Trustee Fred Domen questioned whether a favorable vote on the Van Buren Park site would rule out other possible locations for the senior housing development. Cullin said it would not.

Domen also told the board and audience that because Van Buren might build a federally-funded senior housing development did not mean that residents of the township would be guaranteed occupancy in the structure.

He cited a recently built senior complex in Ypsilanti that contains only 10 percent of residents from the community and nearby Ypsilanti Township.

Cullin stressed that should the Van Buren Park site, if approved for sale by votes, emerge as the best or only good site, then the park land most probably would be used for a senior housing complex.

Although the senior housing development under question would be a Van Buren Township project, a news story in the Enterprise recently related the possibility of a centrally located senior housing complex to serve Van Buren and four other surrounding communities.

At a recent meeting of the Western Five Community Conference, Romulus Mayor William M. Oakley suggested that the consortium pursue steps to obtain federal funding for such a project.

Western Five serves the townships of Van Buren, Supter and Huron and the cities of Belleville and Romulus.

According to Van Buren officials, the construction of a senior housing complex to serve all five communities would be in addition to one located in Van Buren Township as its own project.

CETA jobs

Hogan explained further that when some of the 12 employees who worked up to possibly six years were hired that the 18-month limitation was not in effect.

"The 18-month limitation did not become effective until April 1, 1978," he emphasized.

In the fall of 1978, Hogan said 17 CETA-funded city employees were verbally told that their jobs would be terminated as of Oct. 1, 1979 and advised to seek other employment up to that date.

"By the spring of 1979, only a few of the 17 employees had found other employment," he said.

After that, he said another meeting was held and he again informed the employees that their jobs would not be funded after Oct. 1, 1979. Again, he said, only a few found jobs elsewhere.

"Then, at the last minute," Hogan said, "CETA granted Romulus and some other communities a year's waiver of their termination."

Now, he stressed, the 12 CETA employees still left will face the same situation — termination of their jobs a year later on Oct. 1, 1980.

But, this time, Hogan said, he sees no chance of another extension from CETA.

Huron clerk gets some facts from HUD spokesman

Mary Lou Carey, clerk of Huron Township was among those who attended the first national conference of the National Association of Towns and Townships (NATT). Two prominent Carter administration cabinet secretaries and four members of Congress addressed the conference, held Sept. 3-5, 1980 in Washington, DC.

Secretary of the Department of Housing and Urban Development (HUD) Moon Landrieu spoke about community development and HUD policies affecting small towns and townships. Secretary of the Department of Agriculture (USDA) Bob Bergland explained the township implications of the Carter administration's Small Community and Rural Development Policy as well as other USDA programs.

There are also speeches by Sen. David Durenberger (R-MN), Sen. Donald Riegle (D-MI), Rep. Clarence Brown (R-OH), and Repr. Wes Watkins (D-OK).

NATT's Conference, titled "Bridging the Gap...Between Your Township and the Nation's Capital," was organized to focus much-needed attention at the federal level on the interests and concerns of the country's thousands of township officials and small community governments.

Mrs. Carey met with a number of Congressional representatives from Michigan and had an opportunity to discuss issues and "compare notes" with hundreds of local officials from communities with needs and problems similar to those in Huron Township.

She is a representative of the 18th District, which includes Wayne, Washtenaw, Livingston and Monroe counties, of the Michigan Township Association. The state association is a member of the National Association of Township and Townships, which advocates, at the national level, the interests of local government officials from over 13,000 predominantly small, non-metropolitan communities across the nation.

Survivor of world's worst air disaster to speak in area

Norman Williams, businessman and survivor of the worst air disaster in the history of the world, will be the guest speaker at Canton Clavery Assembly of God, 7933 Sheldon Rd., this Sunday, Sept. 21, at 11:00 A.M. Senior pastor, Rev. M. Gregory Gentry, said that "the testimony of Mr. Williams is thrilling yet heart-breaking; exciting yet tear jerking."

Slightly over three years the world could hardly believe its ears when it was reported that two 747 jumbo jets collided on the runway of the little island of Tenerife in the Canary Islands.

"Miraculously, Mr. Williams was one of only about twenty who survived this tragic accident where nearly six hundred (600) lost their lives," he said.

Williams, who is a committed Christian, lived in the Detroit area for several years as a youngster and attended Brightmoor Tabernacle of Detroit which is the parent church of Canton Cavalry A-G.

Following graduation from Central Bible College, Springfield Missouri, Williams moved to California and went into business.

It was an unusual chain of events which led to his taking that trip with his business partner and even more strange, the many mishaps and unexpected events which led to this holocaust.

Today, Williams travels extensively sharing his own personal testimony regarding this experience and also what God has done in the lives of so many who have been personally touched by this tragedy.

Said another survivor, "for some, God was turning the remnants of disaster to glory. A phoenix from the ashes of Tenerife." Mr. Williams has co-authored the book, "Terror At Tenerife" and may have some on hand for distribution following his speaking engagement this Sunday morning.

Ford sets deadline for youths seeking academy appointments

Congressman William D. Ford (D-Mich.) announced this week that he is accepting applications, from interested young men and women, for nominations to the United States Service Academies.

The deadline for accepting academy applications from qualified youths living in the 15th Congressional District is Saturday, November 15, 1980.

Application forms and full information may be obtained by writing to Congressman Ford at 2368 Rayburn House Office Building, Washington, D.C. 20515 or 3716 Newberry Street, Wayne, Michigan 48184.

Appointments will be available for the 1985 graduating class of the Military, Naval, Air Force and Merchant Marine Academies. Applicants must be at least 17 years old, but not have reached the age of 22 by July 1, to qualify for appointment in 1981. They must be United States citizens, unmarried, and residing in the 15th Congressional District.

"In addition to these basic requirements, my nominations are based upon a strong academic record, SAT or ACT scores, extra-curricular activities and letters of recommendation," Congressman Ford said.

Once nominated, all nominees must pass competitive examinations given by the various Academies. Congressman Ford emphasized, however, that nomination does not automatically mean appointment to one of the Academies.

"All interested students are urged to apply," Congressman Ford said, "as only four young men or women will be admitted in 1981 from the 15th District."

Congressman Ford said, "those appointed to the Academies will receive a tuition-free education culminating in a Bachelor of Science degree, as well as receiving the monthly salaries of service personnel. Upon graduation, they will be commissioned as officers of their respective branch of service."

CAN ONE EXPRESS "MEANINGS" THAT ARE HIDDEN?

On a nationally-televised talk show (The Today Show, in 1976), a noted pianist told of an incident while playing classics for 7 and 8-year-olds in Harlem. After a fine rendition of one of Schubert's lovely works, one child asked the pianist, "Isn't he (Schubert) dead?" The pianist answered, "Yes, but he left his music for us." "But..." continued the child, "How do you know what he means?" The child's concern that the music be played as the dead composer intended it to be played + that is, per his wishes and intent + inspired the pianist to be constantly more aware of accurately interpreting a composer's meaning.

So it is, too, when considering funeral arrangements, that one considers "meaning," the wishes and the intent of the deceased. Better still is it to express your wishes for your own services in advance of need. It is then a true interpretation of your own hand. This helps to lift the burden from the shoulders of your loved ones in a time of great stress.

Just as the pianist became aware of the composer's meanings, you can make your family aware of yours. Call or stop by for more information about arrangements.

PET SERVICE SAVES LIVES!

At one time or another, most of us have been befriended by a stray animal that obviously belonged to someone. If you and your pet became separated, will the person who finds it be able to contact you immediately? What if you're not home... Will the finder call again? What if your pet has been hurt... Will the person who finds it be able to authorize medical treatment? If you are traveling and your pet becomes lost miles from home... Will the finder spend his own money to call you, maybe several times? Probably not! More likely, your pet will be left to wander, hungry and alone, until he becomes another victim of traffic.

Pet Service Network was founded to protect your pets, should they become lost or stolen. When you enroll your pet in the Pet Service Network, you receive an information questionnaire and a distinctive tag to be attached to your pet's collar. This tag is engraved with our emergency toll free Hot Line number. The Hot Line is answered day and night, 365 days a year. Anyone who finds your pet with our special tag has only to call the toll free number and Pet Services Network takes it from there.

Pet Services Network maintains a personal record on your pet, indexed by the individual number on his tag. Your name and address, home and emergency telephone numbers, the name of your local vet, your pet's name, breed, age, and special requirements such as medical conditions and diet will be readily available for use in protecting your pet should it become necessary. We will contact you as soon as your pet is found. If we cannot reach you immediately, and your pet requires medical treatment, we can, by previous arrangement with you, authorize medical expenditures up to any amount you specify. Board for your lost pet can be arranged at a licensed veterinary clinic or kennel until you and your pet can be reunited. Should you wish to offer a reward to the finder of your pet, that information will also appear in his file.

If you stop and think about it, the modest $15.00 first year enrollment fee is probably the best gift you could give your pet. Your pet will have 24 hour protection if he is lost or stolen, and you will have the peace of mind that comes from knowing that he is as close to you as the nearest telephone.

You care about your pet, and Pet Services Network does too. Enroll Now!

Editorial opinions

A call for help

Sociologists will tell you that we are a society that thinks like individuals, are selfish and solitary (most of the time) and are always demanding when asked to do something — "what's in it for me?"

That "What's in it for me?" philosophy has caused us, Americans, a lot of problems. When Mayor Young of Detroit asked the Detroit Police Officers' Association to hold off on a wage increase in order to save jobs for fellow officers, the union said, "Hell, no." So some 700 police officers are now out of work and in the unemployment lines.

Each and every one of us knows of, or has been a part of, similar circumstances. Unfortunately there is little that we can do. The majority rules, they say. Common sense has nothing to do with it. Greed may.

Back then in the early 60s, it was refreshing to hear a young John F. Kennedy, seeking the Presidency of the United States, say "Ask what you can do for your country; not what your country can do for you."

And it also is refreshing to see that cities and townships have asked and received support from their citizens and residents when asked to clean up the mess left by the worst storm to hit southeastern Michigan in years.

Yes, the scars of that mid-July storm are still around us.

And on Saturday, Romulus Mayor William M. Oakley has asked to take part in a massive cleanup. That cleanup will begin at 8 a.m. and volunteer workers from throughout the city are urged to gather at the DPW Building, 34100 Goddard.

With the slogan, "Romulus Needs You — Will you get the Brush off?" the city hopes to erase the last remnant of the storm that caused millions of dollars in damage.

We'll be rolling up our sleeves, and pitching in.

And we hope to see you there, too.

Worthy project

Action taken last week by the Van Buren Township Board to complete renovation and restoration of the old French Landing Dam deserves a pat on the back.

At no cost to township taxpayers, the dam will be finished thanks to $1.5 million that the federal government has now agreed to pump back into the project.

Two weeks ago, the township board voted to stop the project as federal funds to complete the renovation dried up. But, due to an arrangement whereby the township will commit money to be received from sale of electricity when the dam is back in operation, the project will continue completion.

To get the job done, the township board had to commit Van Buren to providing up to $750,000 or half of the amount estimated to complete the overall project. To come up with the money in the near future, the township will either issue revenue bonds for the $750,000 or borrow that amount from the Farmers Home Loan Fund.

Later, Van Buren will pay off the bonds or the loan, whatever the case may be, from the sale of electricity produced by the newly retrofitted dam.

The project engineer and the township's engineering firm both said the $750,000 could be paid off in a relatively short time and that the arrangement was a "good deal" for the township.

It is our understanding that Van Buren will have a ready market for the sale of electricity from the newly-completed dam. Results of a study made prior to work on the dam stated electricity could be sold to the original owner of the dam, Detroit Edison Co., or to area industrial plants.

The fact that the federal government came up short on funds to complete the renovation of the dam is not a negative for the township. As Sup. Pat Cullin pointed out, Van Buren has received $2.3 million thus far from the federal government to make repairs so the dam that the township would have had to perform soon in any event.

Faster and bigger are not always better

By MONA GRIGG
(Special to the Eagle)

I think a fair sign of my impending old age is that I've become increasingly suspicious of things that can perform their given tasks faster than I can blink my eye.

Food processors, for instance, have been known to slice a good-sized carrot quicker than I can pluck one from the good earth. Have you noticed, though, that people just aren't buying food processors anymore?

If anyone asked me, I could tell them why. Oh, all right, if you insist. . . Remember when you only added water to cake mixes? And now you add oil and/or butter and eggs and sometimes even milk?

That's because the cake mix companies took a survey and found that a real cook was offended by anything that required only the addition of something as uncomplicated as water to make it edible.

It's the old American ethic of you have to sweat a little to really appreciate something. When the cooking process becomes too automated, the cook feels guilty taking bows. Besides, to a totally committed Julia Child-like cook, uniform slices are the mark of an amateur.

There is more to just cooking, than just cooking, they know. There is preparing. That's where the art is.

Now, as anyone within oven-shot can attest, I am not now nor ever have been a galloping gourmet—but if I had to take my choice between a food processor and a micro-wave oven, I would take the processor, hands down.

There is something unnatural—malevolent, even—about a machine that sends out invisible rays which proceed then to cook things in a matter of Beginning soon, qualified residents of southern Wayne County will have the opportunity to train at no cost as office specialist or general secretaries at the Detroit Business Institute downtown campus.

The school recently was awarded a contract to train 50 residents under the Community Employment Training Act (CETA) as secretaries and 25 youth under the Youth Employment Training Program (YETP) as office specialist typists. The funds are administered through the Wayne County Office of Manpower.

The general secretarial program is open to all qualified residents regardless of age, sex, or race. It is an intensive 9-month program designed to teach prospective secretaries typing, shorthand, and all the other skills necessary to obtain a position as a secretary.

To qualify for this program, which is 100 percent federally funded and provides a living allowance, a student must be a resident of southern Wayne County excluding Detroit, Highland Park, and Dearborn. The student does not need to be a high school graduate. The program's target group will include the economically disadvantaged females, handicapped, and minorities regardless of age.

The YETP program for office specialist typists has similar residence and background requirements. This program also requires the student to be under the age of 21. High school dropouts will also be accepted.

Both programs have been developed to work toward overcoming employment, education, inexperience, and social barriers. The inability to persist in jobseeking and to survive in today's office environment.

Slated to start Oct. 13, the program will be held from 11:30 a.m. to 4:30 p.m. Both programs will be conducted independently of the regular DBI classes. A separate teacher and counseling staff have been employed for the programs.

Student will be required to attend classes 25 hours a week during which time they will receive the $3.10 minimum wage.

"We are quite excited and proud to have been selected for this responsibility from among the many schools and agencies who applied for this program," said Craig F. Johnson, president of DBI. "It's really an honor for our school to be chosen two years running. This year's programs are ending with great success. Despite the local economy there are still outstanding opportunities for well-trained secretaries and typists."

Student orientation sessions will be conducted at Detroit Business Institute's Riverview campus in two ways—individual and group. The group orientation includes a class-by-class explanation of the programs, job prospects for completers, a tour of the facility, and an entrance test followed by government certification.

An additional group orientation will be conducted prior to the start of classes. At this time the students will be introduced to their teachers and an intensive review of information covered in the individual orientation, plus a complete review of the school catalog and student handbook.

Special benefits for DBI CETA students include strong business education, paid tuition, hourly wages for class attendance or transportation allowances for those who qualify, job placement assistance upon completion of the program, small classes (25 students or less), individual attention, modern equipment and DBI diploma and college credits upon completion.

Want a CETA Job?

The Other Side of the Meridian

Water rates are at the boiling point

By TOM MOORADIAN
Acting Managing Editor

Is there a citizen in Western Wayne County who is not concerned over the skyrocketing water and sewer rates he has been forced to pay?

Is there a council or township that hasn't heard a plea from a resident about those exorbitant rates?

I doubt it very much.

It is becoming ever so frustrating for all of us to watch as the Detroit Water Board continues to raise its rates to its customers — and since Detroit services some 73 communities and probably your community, its actions reflect on your water and sewage bill.

There is no recourse, no respite, according to the many arguments we have heard from members of city councils and township trustees. If we want water, then we have to bend to the gusts of winds from Detroit.

"It is getting so bad that we will soon have to decide whether to eat or pay our water bills," said a Mr. Weston from Inkster. "What can we do? We don't have money to buy food. And we can live without food, but we can't live without water."

Ron Johnson, an articulate spokesman for many causes, wondered if the blind are not being led by the blind in this case.

"I have not watered my lawn this summer. I have depended upon nature to do it. How long do you think people are going to stand for this (spiralling water rates)?"

There are those who postulate that this ominous situation arose because of a federal court order requiring Detroit to modernize its Water and Sewerage plant or lose millions of dollars in federal funds. Detroit was ordered by the federal government back in 1977 to come up with a plan for disposing of sludge from its plant. And, if we recall correctly, that program was just part of an order to comply with the federal clean water standards.

As a carrot, the federal government offered half a billion dollars — but Detroit had to raise "matching funds." And in order to do so ... your water and sewage rates were drastically increased. Those increases, in some cases, amounted to 200 to 300 percent.

Is it no wonder that a lot of people's tempers are at the boiling point?

But what can people do? They feel as helpless as this country in struggling over the hostage situation or another OPEC oil increase. Before them stand giants.

The courts have been of little help. Most communities have united to thwart Detroit's efforts for rate increases, but they have been unsuccessful to date.

And while courts hear arguments from both sides, each molecule of previous hydrogen that unites with oxygen is costing us more and more.

And, would you believe we used to take water for granted?

When death claims a close friend

By JOYCE HAGELTHORN

They say she is dead. Over the telephone they said, "Irene died this morning," and the telephone fell from my hand. The room spun around and part of me cried out, "It can't be, it can't be! My precious, special, special friend can't possibly be gone."

Perhaps the part about her being gone is true, but the part about her being dead is false. Vibrant, living Irene has only dropped her earthly garments and with joyous freedom is rushing out there somewhere, eager, seeking, excited and most of all joyous.

Somewhere out there the wings of immortality have fastened themselves to her slender self and she is sweeping through the winds of eternity, enjoying, sampling, laughing and most of all, calling to all of us left fettered here, "It's wonderful! It's great!"

"I'll see you sometime," she is laughing, just as she used to laugh from her open car door as she zoomed backward into the street.

Green eyes flashing, dark hair flying, and her wide, wide smile, embracing you, urging you to join her in whatever adventure she was beginning with that zoom backwards into the street.

Irene! Whose love for her children only enhanced her ability to love all children. Whose love for her husband made all husbands loveable; whose love for her sister, made all friends sisters, and her love for her mother became a huge umbrella under which everyone could rest awhile.

Irene! Who never saw the negative. "Perhaps she saw it another way," she would say in defense of someone who had apparently erred: "Perhaps, she meant it this way," and the explanation following would bring into focus that each individual does not think exactly alike.

Slender, flashing, dramatic, exotic, loving Irene, brightening every room she entered, and brightening every heart who called her friend.

Tragedy she had experienced, and her strength in that tragedy brought strength to all who knew her, and in the last year when she faced her own mortality, her calmness, her serenity, her sureness of the immortality of her soul, made her approaching transition easier to bear.

And yet ... and yet the shock was there! To face the fact that never again on this earth would one hear the happy, joyous greeting; never again on this earth to see that flashing combination of love, excitement, compassion and wisdom — for, oh yes, our Irene was wise. So wise.

And because of that inner wisdom, I can believe that those wings of immortality are carrying her through the heavens with abounding exultation and joy, and that wisdom makes her know that the separation from her loved ones will be short at the very most, and sometime, sometime in the roll of time, family and friends will once again join with her in viewing the wonders of the heavens and the joy of being alive!

Daughter-in-law steals her purse

DEAR CAROL,

Here I am again with one of my troubles. I hope you can help me. My oldest son married a woman with 4 kids (they are all gone now, not living at home, married).

I don't know what to do about my son's wife, my daughter-in-law.

I found out that she has a bank book by herself that my son doesn't know about. She doesn't work, she did once a long time ago. Now she says she has a bad heart. She lies a lot.

I know too, that she is not too young (over 50) and that she is saving for her grandkids.

Yet, my son has so many bills that we had to help him out. She doesn't care about the bills, she makes enough bills, as she wants everything. He can't keep it up, not while she saves for her grandkids.

We were there Sunday and I put my purse down on the davenport and went to the bathroom. She thought I would stay longer in there, so when I came out she was trying to get into my pocketbook. When she saw me she ran into the kitchen.

I didn't say anything and she didn't say anything. I was shocked to see that she would even steal from me when my husband and I help them so much.

You see, this is not my son's first wife. She is the second one. She had four kids from her first husband and my son has three boys from his first marriage, not living at home. She can't stand my grandkids and they are good boys. They never give her any problems when they come to see their father. His wife doesn't like me anymore and I never give her any trouble but I can't stand by and see what she is doing to my son.

His kids don't go over there anymore as they know she can't stand them. She takes anything she gets hold of, she even stole cups from the hospital she was once in.

Once she even went into one of her lady friend's houses (she got the key somehow) and stole one of her cake pans.

This woman she stole it from told me this herself, but since she is a very nice person she won't tell my son. She and her husband like my son. Nobody likes his wife.

I am afraid my son will get into trouble and I don't want that. He had enough trouble with his first wife; she got everything and he didn't get nothing, just his clothes and an old car.

That's why my husband helped them get started again, because my son had to pay for his three boys. That was very bad and hard on him. We love our son. We can't let him suffer now. This wife wants more. Why should we work now and all our lives so she can save more for her grandkids?

My son is so trusting that he can't see just what she is doing to him. Her youngest daughter has a husband that makes good money but she goes to her mother, my daughter-in-law, and takes a car load home when my son is working.

The people next door to them tell me what goes on. I am so worried that my son will get into trouble because of his wife.

If she gets caught stealing, we can't keep it from him any more. What if he gets into trouble over her? What do you think I should do? Tell my son everything? Not say anything about all this? I am so sick from worrying. I thank you ever so much.

DEAR MOTHER, I can understand that the pain and anxiety you feel about your son's situation is great, but you must understand that there is very little you can do to influence adult offspring.

Your son may have gotten himself into a mess (and it appears that he has), but if you interfere you run the risk of pushing your son into the position of defending and perpetuating the situation.

It would be better to be patient and loving and available to him should he come to you. If and when he does talk to you about his marriage, suggest marriage counseling. It frequently helps the people involved, whether or not the marriage is saved.

I realize it is one of the most difficult things in the world to see our loved ones unhappy but it is not always in our power to change their lives. Sad, but unquestionably true. As for your daughter-in-law stealing from you, confront her when you are sure you are alone and tell her you will not tolerate it. Don't leave things in her way for temptation. Good luck and let me know how it works out.

Letters to the Editor

EDITOR — I have read the article entitled "Unfriendly reception" in your fine newspaper of Sept. 4, 1980 page A-11.

It shocked me for a moment. I feel that I have a moral obligation to write about it as one of our own parishioners is involved in it and in the past months another parishioner and a taxpayer has received the same treatment.

I would like to bring to the attention of the Mayor of Westland and his appointees that they are supposed to be servants of the people. It is the taxpayers who pay their salaries. The people have a right in justice to demand what they have coming.

In this case the residents of Globe and Wilmer streets in Westland as well as those on Manila Street have the right in justice to demand what they have asked for since they are taxpayers.

Virtue of justice regulates the relations that exist between man and man or under the form of corporations, such as a city. St.

Thomas Aquinas, the great moral theologian, calls justice the mistress of all the moral virtues that regulate our relations with our fellow-man. The scope of this virtue is so vast that it extends to all the Commandments of God and Precepts of the Church. It covers pro-property rights and taxpayers rights. The Proverb says: "Let justice be done though the heaven fall."

The people in the above case were treated unjustly by the appointee of the Mayor, who acted as assistant to the mayor, since the mayor was out of town. It was brought to my attention that some of the other appointees of the Mayor in other City departments likewise mistreat some of our taxpayers.

Mr. Mayor I feel for these people as they have a legitimate criticism.

You, Mr. Mayor, have a moral obligation in conscience and in justice to rectify this behavior of your appointed officials. Make a clean sweep and get people in the city departments that are courteous, polite, conscientious, educated, sincere and competent in the performance of their duties to the citizenry of Westland as they deserve to be treated humanely.

Truly Yours,
REV. ANDREW M. NIECKARZ
Pastor of SS SIMON & JUDE CHURCH

EDITOR — The Wayne Festival is now over. As a commissioner there are numerous people who I ought to, have and will thank, however, as an avid supporter of Special Olympics I want to thank one "special" person who worked at the festival.

Gerald Clark spent 40 hours working at the goblet pitch booth during the festival. Gerald donated all of the proceeds to charity, namely, Wayne County Special Olympics.

I am truly thankful for Gerald's support and behalf of the Special Olympians in Wayne County thank him and his family for giving to someone less fortunate than themselves.

RICHARD S. CLARK
Wayne County Special Olympics
EDITOR — On Tuesday, Sept. 9, the first Grapefruit baseball banquet of the Wayne Rec. Dept.

was held. On that night I received an award thanking me for my dedication to the Youth Baseball Program.

I was surprised but pleased at receiving the beautiful plaque, but I don't consider it dedication — I call it pure enjoyment with a lot of satisfaction thrown in.

I have gotten to know a lot of wonderful boys and their parents through the years, and the awards that they presented to me through those years were every bit as pleasing as the one I received Tuesday.

I was fortunate in always having parents that backed me all the way, and to them go my special "thanks". I can't say enough about "my boys," who through the years gave me enough thrills to last a lifetime — boys who really gave me the best of their ability and this year almost gave me what every coach dreams of — a perfect season. We almost made it, ending our season with 14 wins and no losses, but we lost the "big one" — the championship, by a narrow margin of 5 to 3 to the Saints.

Congratulations must go to the Saints and their coach, of course, who by winning became the champions, but I want all my boys to know that even though we weren't the champions, they are all "champs" to me. I ought to know because I am the very proud coach of the ASTROS, the No. 1 team in my book.

Thank you, Don Halley, the City of Wayne Rec. Dept. for a great banquet. My only wish is that all the teams would get better coverage in the Eagle on their games. They work so hard for the City of Wayne, and all the other cities get better coverage than we do. We had All Stars too, but their names & pictures never made the Wayne Eagle.

It is nice to know that what you do is appreciated, so "thank you", Mike Brown for your kind words at the banquet, and to the other coaches who congratulated me. Even though the plaques were given to Mike Brown and me, I feel that any man who volunteers his time and effort for a good cause should get a pat on the back, so I would like to share my honors with all my fellow coaches. Best of luck to all of you next year.

Last, but certainly not least, a great big "thank you" to all the boys and parents, past and present, for a lot of wonderful seasons. You will always be fondly remembered by the coach of the ASTROS, Chester Jarosiewicz, better known as, "MR. J. Wayne"

Nankin Mills also had a 'Ford Connection'

1938 and, though several reports of the event indicate that Mr. Ford himself wasn't there, Vera Bassett Trost (whose father had sold the mill to Ford) says he was.

"It seems he (Mr. Ford) had had a bicycle accident—he collided with his grandson, Henry Ford II, and came away with several noticeable facial scratches. He was embarrassed and didn't want to alarm the children, so he stayed outside and away from the festivities. One of my babies began crying during the ceremony and I took him outside. That's when I noticed Mr. Ford and we had quite a conversation."

Besides reading, from McGuffeys and learning the basics at the new school, the students were taught sewing, woodworking, etiquette, square and social dancing and singing. Morning chapel was a must.

Each student could, if he chose, grow his or her own vegetables in a small garden plot in back of the school. Free hot lunches were provided, as well as free medical and dental care.

The associated Ford schools had their own newspaper, the Herald, and lively competition in composition ensued, with the winners granted a paragraph or two in the next edition. Donald Cousins wrote these immortal words in April, 1940: "On April 1, the boys of the Nankin Mills School had their first ball practice. It felt good to get out there for the first time and to run around those bases. We won't have much of a team this year, because there are only 6 boys who can play."

There are those who saw Henry Ford as some sort of feudalistic landlord—and, indeed, there were times when he appeared to view himself as an overseer as well as an employer. He set rigid standards, not only for his workers, but for their wives and children as well, and workers were known to have been reprimanded or even let go for choosing personal lifestyles contrary to Mr. Ford's standard of behavior. But if he was that way, you couldn't prove it by Vera Trost. She says, "He was Santa Claus from the day he started until the day he had to give it up."

And the day did come when he was forced to give it up. In 1947, when automation and new techniques made it more practical to operate from a centralized location, the powers-that-be in the Ford firm overrode the old man's wishes and dismantled the Utopian village industries.

The following year Henry Ford died and the Nankin Mills property was turned over to Wayne County.

It was used as a storage building until 1956, when naturalist-historian Mary Ellsworth took over and began converting the building to a nature center. Under Mary's care, the Mill at Nankin has been patiently and lovingly restored to its original beauty.

Focus on photography

By DON GREEN

There are no hard and fast rules to guide us in composition, but there are principles which can form a good foundation for understanding it.

For example, every part of a picture, whether it is a spot, line or mass, has certain values. These values depend upon size, shape and position in the picture area and direction and contrast with the surroundings.

A large spot will attract more attention than a small spot — everything else being equal, but the small spot may equal or surpass the large spot in attraction value under certain conditions.

It may have greater contrast with the surroundings; it may be a white spot on a dark field, whereas the large spot may be grey against a neutral background.

An irregular shape gets more attention than a regular shape. A spot near the edge of a picture tends to weaken it because the eye is directed towards the border and easily leaves the picture area.

Composition can be separated into two main divisions — formal and informal. Formal composition is the symmetrical arrangement of the elements of a picture.

For example, when we place an object directly in the center of the picture area, we have formal composition. If we take four objects of the same size and arrange them so that they are evenly spaced, two and two, we have a symmetrical or formal composition.

Dividing the picture equally gives a feeling of balance and strength. Many types of commercial shots require this type of composition. Photographs used in catalogs where the merchandise is neatly arranged in orderly rows is a good example. The difficulty with formal composition is that for the most part, it is uninteresting.

Dividing the picture in half, either horizontally or vertically, can result in poor composition. For example, if the horizon is in the center of a photograph, the space allocated to the sky and foreground is equally divided and will have equal attraction.

The result is that the eye keeps jumping from one area to the other. It is a simple matter to adjust the horizon line so that a greater area is allocated to the most important part of the picture.

Better, more interesting composition will result if we:

1. Avoid placing the center of interest in the middle of the photograph;
2. Do not space objects equally in the picture area and;
3. Do not allow important lines of the picture to divide the photograph in half.

That brings us to informal composition. Informal composition is creative. Its flexibility gives the photographer opportunity for expression. Informal composition requires a study and understanding of the principles of art and design.

Next week we will look at this more closely.

Wayne's running back scores 4 TDs against Allen Park

Like Billy Sims is Rick Rogers unstoppable?

Sims led the Detroit Lions to their second consecutive National Football League victory Sunday two days after Rogers powered Wayne Memorial to its second high school football win of the campaign.

Rogers, one of the most exciting running backs in the area this season, provided the offensive explosion in a 34-0 Wayne shutout of out-of-conference rival, Allen Park.

The Wayne senior scored four touchdowns on dashes of 14, 9, 49 and 5, amassing 180 yards in 20 carries. He also enjoyed a tremendous evening on defense where he was credited with four solo tackles, intercepted a pass and deflected two others.

"He's exceeded all of our expectations," said Wayne Coach Floyd Carter. "Rick is an all-around athlete and barring any injury he'll set some records around here that are going to stand up for a long, long time.

"But, I also want people to remember that this team is a team," Carter continued. "They are welded together as a unit and if one stands out it is because the others definitely are doing the job."

Wayne got the job done on Allen Park early. The Zebras scored five of the first six times they had possession of the ball. Coach Carter had his second and third units in the action during most of the second half.

It took the Zebras only a few minutes to get on the scoreboard in the first quarter. Quarterback Rick Covault engineered a 51-yard drive in five plays that culminated with Rogers' 14-yard touchdown dash. Rogers then booted the point after and with 8:17 showing on the clock

Wayne had a 7-0 lead.

With 3:04 left in the quarter, Wayne struck again. This time it was a Covault to Gary Mazurek pass, good for a 34-yard TD that did the trick. Rogers again made good on the point after.

Midway in the second quarter Rogers finished off a 56-yard, eight play sustained drive with a 9-yard scoring run. Wayne Davis attempted the point after and the ball went wide of the uprights. Before the half ended, Rogers turned in a superb 49-yard touchdown run and cashed in on a 5-yarder with 16 seconds left in the half. That final TD was set up by Rogers' first interception of the year which he returned 42 yards.

Covault displayed precision passing against the Jaguars who are returning to the gridiron after missing a year of competition because of financial problems. The senior Wayne signal-caller hit on 4 of 7 passes for 62. His longest completion was a 34-yarder. He also threw for one touchdown.

Wayne received an excellent defensive game from Bruce Rize, a 200-pound senior who helped keep the Jaguars pinned deep in their own territory most of the night.

Wayne goes for its third consecutive victory of the year Friday night when it clashes with winless Taylor Truman in the Great Lakes 8 Conference in Taylor. Truman dropped a close one to city rival, Kennedy, in its season opener, and pre-season title favorite, Fordson, disposed of the Eagles in the conference opener a week ago.

"They have always given us a tough battle," Carter recalls, "and, although they haven't won any this year, they'll really be gunning for us. We're going to have to be ready."

Wise decisions

By TOM MOORADIAN
ANP Sports Editor

It seems that the Michigan High School Athletic Association, that august body that has the last word on prep sports in this state, has seen the light.

The MHSAA has come up with a new format for staging its baseball, softball and wrestling state championships. And that format should have a very warm reception with coaches, fans and participants across the state.

What the MHSAA has done is to break away from past tradition and has decided "that all four classes (A-B-C-D) in each of the above mentioned sports will be played at the same site." Unlike basketball, state championships for each class in wrestling, softball and baseball were held on separate sites.

"It is expected the new format's" writes Vern L. Norris, executive director of the MHSAA, "will be a great boon to these sports from the standpoint of the participants, fans and members of the news media. It will provide an opportunity to observe all competition in all classes at the same site for each sport."

The breeze that carried the news from East Lansing to this area was warmly received. Not one dissenting vote could be found among our area coaches. In the past there have been distant rumblings by coaches and fans who followed these sports. They had to make up their mind which championship they wanted to see when the state finals were held.

In basketball there was never any problem. All roads led to Ann Arbor or East Lansing where the finals were traditionally staged.

Now sports fans will also have an opportunity to watch all four state classes battle for the titles in wrestling, softball and baseball. In the same dictum from East Lansing, Norris also announced where the state tournaments for the three sports would be held.

The final tournament in wrestling is scheduled to be conducted at Crisler Arena, University of Michigan on Friday and Saturday, Feb. 27 and 28 in 1981; while the softball finals are set for Ranney Park, Lansing. The four final games will be played on Saturday, June 13.

Baseball championships will be decided also on June 13 at Central Michigan University.

Although Inkster High School's football program is struggling to exist, it appears that the Vikings' frustrated fans will soon see a "new generation" of gridders coming to the rescue.

Welded in despair after its second consecutive shutout — the Vikings lost 26-0 to DePue and 33-0 to Madison Heights Lapeer, it seems hopelessly impossible for Coach James and his staff as they get ready to meet a big Class A school, Highland Park, and teams like Rouge, Ecorse and Robichaud are also lined up to pounce on the Vikings.

But while Inkster shudders, there is still hope. Last week, Inkster launched its inaugural Little League football season. Some 1,000 fans showed up to watch some 126 kids play.

That enthusiasm is bound to rub off at the high school, says James.

"I believe in two or three years our program at the high school will be better because of the Little League program," James said. "It's got to have a positive effect. If we had parents' groups working the way they're working for Little Leaguers, we'd be in good shape now."

"I believe moreover that the parents who are taking those kids to Little League will follow their kids through the high school programs. I'm really enthused about all of this."

And so are a lot of other people who believe that Little League was a long time coming to Inkster and now that it's here, it's exceeded all expectations.

Cranked up

A rare picture is the one above as Westland John Glenn's quarterback Rick Discher prepares to unleash a pass. Discher went to the air only four times against Northville because of the incessant rains. He hit on one pass. Glenn apparently didn't need an aerial attack for the visiting Northville contingent. The Rockets won an 18-7 out of league victory.

Glenn has tough North on its mind

"Any team that has title aspirations in the Northwest Suburban Conference knows it must beat North Farmington for its dreams to be realized."

Those are the words of Westland John Glenn's head football Coach Chuck Gordon as he prepares his charges for Friday night's crucial conference opener.

"If we want anything to do with the title," Gordon continued, "then we're going to have to handle North."

And the surprisingly easy way that Gordon's Rockets shot down Northville Saturday afternoon during an incessant downpour of rain cleared the path for that showdown.

The two teams will meet Friday under the lights at the Westland-based high school. Kickoff is 8 p.m.

Glenn destroyed Northville 18-7 to earn its first victory of the season. In their opener, the Westlanders lost a 14-7 breather to Dearborn Edsel Ford.

"We played much better against Northville than we did against Edsel," Gordon offered, "however, we must improve a lot more to take on a team of North Farmington's caliber."

Scoreless in the first quarter which was hampered by a continuous rain, Glenn broke the dikes early in the second quarter when quarterback Rick Discher capped a 6-play, 50-yard drive with a one-yard touchdown sneak. The brunt of most of that drive fell upon tailback Greg O'Neil's shoulders. O'Neil picked up a couple of critical first downs.

Discher provided the Rockets with an insurance TD early in the second half when he again strung together a long drive — 62 yards that ate up more than six minutes and ended with the elusive senior QB going in from the two. The killer play in that series was a 12-yard aerial from Discher to wide receiver Jeff Luke.

On the next series, Northville obliged by fumbling on its own eight-yard line and Westland recovered. It took O'Neil two plays to find his way into the end zone from the 4-yard line.

With 2:09 left in the battle, Northville averted the shutout thanks to Fullback Bob Thompson's 2-yard touchdown run which wrapped up a 27-yard drive that was ignited by a Glenn fumble on its own 30.

O'Neil was the sparkplug in the Glenn offense as he racked up 114 yards in 19 tries. The Westlanders would up with 184 yards rushing with Discher going to the zero visibility air only four times and hit on one pass.

Glenn's defense held Northville, a team that lost to Westland in overtime a year ago, to 87 yards rushing and 81 passing. Spearheading the Rocket defense were Joe Bielecki and Fran Iannello.

Franklin looking for 'some offense'

After two losses, Livonia Franklin coach Armand Vigna is trying to find some offense.

"I think that's our problem — we don't have any offense," said the veteran Franklin coach after Stevenson won a breathtaking 8-6 decision over the Pats on Saturday. "I've been very happy with our defense — we hit hard."

"I don't know if it was a combination of the rain and Stevenson's defense but we just couldn't move against them."

Franklin chalked up a mere 72 yards in 20 plays against their cross-town rivals. The Pats connected on 3 of 17 passes. One of those completions was a halfback aerial — Richard Popp to Mike Antal that netted them a 26-yard touchdown in the third quarter.

Trailing by two at the time, Franklin elected to go for the two point conversion but the pass attempt was knocked down.

Stevenson scored in the second quarter when defensive halfback

Steve Quinlan picked off a misdirected aerial and ran it back into the end zone for a touchdown. Gary Biermann raced off tackle for the two point conversion which eventually stood up as the difference in this game.

Franklin's cranked up defense picked off three passes, two of those by Ron Lohman. The other went into Ron Gunter's hands. Lohman and Tim Pope, the Pats' outside linebacker, turned in superb games on defense.

Winless in two starts, Franklin will launch the Northwest Suburban Conference campaign as host to Redford Union Saturday afternoon. Redford split in its two out of conference games, losing 32-12 to Stevenson by ripping Bishop Borgess 21-6.

"I want to say this about our kids," Coach Vigna offered. "We had six of our starters out with flu most of the week and it's a tribute to them that they managed to come back and play."

Touchdown

Lunging his way into the Northville end zone on this play is Glenn quarterback Rick Discher who is surrounded by dark jerseys. And, as the referee indicates, Discher has the touchdown. The Glenn QB scored twice as his Rockets turned back Northville 18-7 for their first win. Glenn launches the Northwest Suburban Conference campaign on Friday at home to always tough North Farmington.

Franklin harriers launch 'awesome' season with victory

Livonia Franklin, considered one of the finer high school cross country teams in the area this will begin its quest for the 1980 Northwest Suburban Conference title on Thursday against Garden City East. Franklin, considered "awesome" in strength by at least one coach, started the season last week with a 23-32 victory over Farmington Harrison. Franklin veteran coach Bob Holmes said he wished he had an awesome team.

Holmes laughingly pointed out, "Potentially we have a fine and I base that comment upon our track performances last Spring. But, as we all know, a lot can happen from now until the championships are held."

Franklin was runner-up to Westland John Glenn in the conference a year ago and, barring injuries, the two should fight it out again this year.

Franklin's Mike White won the non-league opener with a run of 17:06, easily beating Farmington's second-place finisher, Paul Tremoti who was clocked in 17:32 for the three miles. The Livonians then swept the next three places with Chris Zimmers (17:48), Dave Gerardi (17:48) and John Hart (17:53). The other Franklin scorer, Tom Chinavare, placed eighth.

In the meantime, Westland John Glenn chalked up a pair of out-of-league victories, turning back arch-rival, Wayne Memorial, 26-31 and beating Adrian, 26-30.

Glenn's triumph over Wayne ruined the coaching debut of Brian Watson, a former Wayne athlete who has taken over from ex-coach Ernie Righetti. Righetti has a coaching position at Wayne State University.

Wayne had the individual winner in Chris Strome who was clocked in 16:09, but the Westlanders came back with second and third thanks to Santo Campbell (16:12) and Pete Stephens (16:27). Campbell and Stephens were supported by Randy Frank, Karl Steffes and Tom Gibson who chipped in with sixth, seventh, and eighth place finishes. Wayne had the fourth and fifth best runners at the meet with Mike Tolson, younger brother of former All-American, Doug Tolson, and fifth place went to Kevin Allen. Keith Kiesznowski and Gary Vallance finished 10th and 11th, respectively, for the Zebras.

Campbell and Stephens ran second and third to Adrian's Rob Wotring who toured the three-mile course in 16:29.8. Frank, Macika and Steffes brought up the sixth through eighth spots respectively.

Wayne also lost a 26-29 breather to Dearborn Edsel Ford, 26-29, as Strome and Kevin Allen finished second (16:17) and fourth (17:00) to Edsel's winner, Brian Dahl (16:03).

"We're a very young team and my top 10 runners will be back a year from now," said Watson, an assistant coach last year.

Fordson, which has won the Great Lakes 8 Conference title now for the past two years, is again favored to win this year.

This is National Constitution Week

This is National Constitution Week. The Sept. 17-23 observance is being called to our attention by the DAR (Daughters of the American Revolution), Ypsilanti Chapter, which includes several area women.

Sept. 17 marks the 193rd anniversary of the Constitution of the United States of America. Not only did this immortal document establish our freedoms and responsibilities as a nation, it remains our constant source of direction through each crisis faced by America. In order to maintain this fountainhead of our rights and privileges, every citizen must understand, uphold and protect the principles it decrees.

May our observance of Constitution Week-1980 be especially meaningful as we reflect upon the 52 Americans held hostage in a foreign land still unable to enjoy the liberties and freedoms guaranteed by our Constitution.

The DAR suggests that we, as proud Americans, show our patriotism by displaying the American flag during Constitution Week.

BRIDE-TO-BE 'SHOWERED'

Connie Block, who has an October altar date with Don Eichler of Livonia, took time out from a busy schedule to be the guest of honor Aug. 24 at a bridal shower luncheon.

Held at the Airport Hilton, the pre-nuptial event, which began with champagne punch, was given by the bride-elect's grandmother, Mrs. John Steffes of Wayne; her aunt, Mrs. Harry Monaghan of Wayne, and three sisters, Vickie Block of Wayne and Patti and Lori Block of Romulus.

Relatives and friends traveled from Addison, Canton, Wayne, Dearborn, Inkster, Garden City, Livonia, Westland, Flat Rock and Romulus for the social afternoon which resulted in prizes for all 36 attending.

Table centerpieces and corsages for the bridal party were all in a pink and white color scheme with Melanie Hagglund of Flat Rock, the maid honor; Cathy Eichler of Livonia, Lisa Monaghan of Wayne and the bride's three sisters, all future bridesmaids, honored with flowers.

St. Paul's United Church of Christ in Taylor has been reserved for Connie and Don's autumn nuptials.

JERRY'S THE "SURPRISEE"

On the pretext that she was giving a party for her mother, Patti Bies got her hubby, Jerry, to attend "her" birthday party Saturday afternoon, Sept. 6. On his arrival, though, he soon found "her" celebration was actually "his" — a surprise for his 31st birthday.

Some 52 guests were on hand from Saline, Ypsilanti, Wayne and Belleville to join in the festivities which included volleyball, gag gifts (and proper ones as well) and a buffet supper. Highlighting the meal was a cake made in the form of a fireman's helmet, the work of Janet Jaromin. The honored man is a volunteer for Van Buren Fire Department No. 1.

Co-hostess Mrs. Dorothy Mason, at whose home on Spencer Street the party was held, had just returned from a month-long stay in Traverse City with the Jim Mason family. The trip was prompted by the by-pass surgery which her son, Jim, had undergone in July. The 38-year-old former employee of Hamilton Hardware is doing well but is not as yet able to return to work.

BACK FROM SOUTH

After spending the past three weeks in Jackson, Tenn., Mrs. Viola Long and her sister, Mrs. Bernice Holdridge, are home again in Romulus. Invited to the home of the former's daughter and son-in-law, Eleanor and Dudley Moore, the twosome took part in the pre-nuptial parties held for the Moore's daughter, Jenelle.

First in the trio of festivities was a luncheon hosted by the bride-elect's employer, Miss Verla Frazier, at her home in Jackson. Next was a miscellaneous shower given by Miss Moore's future sister-in-law, Mrs. Forrest Woodruff, and lastly a kitchen shower planned by neighbors, Mrs. Frank Weston and Mrs. Hurley Albright.

The Romulus guests also attended the wedding of Miss Moore and J. Harold Wheeler on Sept. 6 at the Baptist Church in Jackson.

Enroute home, the pair stopped in Cincinnati, Ohio for an overnight visit with a niece and husband, Alvira and Ross Milford.

Niagara Falls destination for newly-wed Colwells

A honeymoon trip to Niagara Falls in Ontario, Canada followed the August 16 marriage of Tammy Jean Young of Ypsilanti and Steven Scott Colwell of Belleville.

The young couple exchanged nuptial vows and wedding bands before Pastor Walter Henning at St. Paul's Evangelical Lutheran Church with some 200 guests in attendance.

Music for the five o'clock ceremony was played by Mrs. Walter Henning and sung by Sandy Mills and Terri Young.

The summer rite joined in marriage the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Charles M. Young of 2068 Moeller, Ypsilanti, and the son of Mr. and Mrs. Richard Colwell of 13930 Elwell Rd., Belleville.

Given in marriage by her father, the bride was gown in a toe-touching creation of white organza and lace, the little fitted bodice being embellished with lace to match the trim on her fingertip veil.

A colonial bouquet of white roses, carnations and baby's breath completed her ensemble.

Kathy Smith of Ypsilanti served as maid of honor and bridesmaids included Michelle Kane of Ypsilanti Dawn Gonzales of Romulus, a niece; Kathy Colwell of Belleville and Terri Young of Ypsilanti, sisters of the bridal pair, and Mrs. Brian Colwell of Belleville, the bridegroom's sister-in-law.

Youngsters in the wedding party were 6-year-old Christopher Dobis of Dearborn, who filled the role of ringbearer, and 7 year-old Kelley Fagin of Erlanger, Ky., the flower girl.

The bridegroom chose Don Harbour of Westland to be best man and ushers were Robert Cook of Ypsilanti; Mark Wanshon of Belleville; Richard Stephens of Dexter, and James Colwell of Westland and Brian Colwell of Belleville, both brothers of the bridegroom.

Prior to leaving on their honeymoon the newlyweds were feted at a reception at the Brass Bell in Belleville.

The new Mrs. Colwell graduated from Belleville High School two years after her husband received his diploma there. He later attended Henry Ford Community College and is now working for Colwell Equipment of Belleville.

The rehearsal dinner, hosted by the Richard Colwells, was held at the Brass Bell in Belleville.

Tour of England, Scotland ends for pair

By Mrs. Joseph Spring
699-4021

Mrs. William Graham Sr. of Liberty Street and daughter, Mrs. Rock (Grace) Malloy of Winnipeg, Man., arrived home Sept. 6 after having spent a month in Scotland and England visiting relatives and friends.

Meeting in Toronto, Ont., they left Aug. 5 aboard a 747, along with 410 passengers, landing at Prestwick in Scotland Aug. 6, where they were met by a cousin, Emily Robson, of Edinburgh.

They toured the Robert Burns Country before arriving in Edinburgh where they spent a week with Mr. Graham's relatives. From there they went by train to New Castle and Grimsby in Northern England where they visited an army friend of daughter, Grace.

At Norwich they were joined by Mrs. Graham's sister, Lillian McGregor, and the threesome returned to Scotland where they visited a cousin in Perth, spent a few days in Aviemore, where the sisters attended school, and visited another sister Marjory McGregor at Kingussie. At North Berwick they visited the ruins of Tantallon Castle, a fortress on the North Sea, took the chair lift to the top of Cairngorm Mountain, and drove along Loch Ness (no sign of the monster) to Inverness.

Before returning home, they spent four days sight seeing in London and attended a couple of plays. Arriving back in Canada, they found they had to land at Montreal because of the strike in Toronto. After an overnight stay in Montreal they finally arrived safely in Toronto where they were met by daughter, Elaine Stabnau.

Guests this past week at the Quirk Road home of Mr. and Mrs. George Maki were the former's sister, Mrs. Helen Warner from Stephenson, and his sister-in-law, Mrs. Isabelle Maki of Sullivan, Wis.

On Friday, Sept. 5, Mr. and Mrs. Clayton Walters entertained at a family dinner at their home on Church Street honoring Clayton's mother, Mrs. Gurtha Walters, on her 90th birthday. Members present were Mr. and Mrs. William Allman and son, Tom, and daughter, Luann, from Wyandotte; Mr. and Mrs. Don Walters and family of West Huron River Drive, and Margaret Walters of Church Street. A special birthday cake was the highlight of the meal.

Mrs. Ruth Roulo of Liberty Street returned home Sept. 7 from Rapid City, S.D. where she had spent 10 days with relatives, Mr. and Mrs. Darold O'Neal, and her grandson and wife, David and Paula O'Neal, and great-granddaughters, Shannon and Krista.

While she was there, they visited Mt. Rushmore, the Bad Lands, Prairie Homestead, where they saw the albino prairie dogs, Wall Drug Store, and Keystone. She also helped her grandson, David, celebrate his 24th birthday.

On Sunday, Sept. 7, Mr. and Mrs. Glenn Brown of South Lyon entertained at a cook-out in honor of Grandparents' Day. Present were two great-grandmothers, Mrs. Marge Grubbe of Westland and Mrs. Muriel Smith of Liberty Street, a grandmother, Mrs. Joan Hillis and son, John Smith of South Lyon, and an aunt and uncle, Mr. and Mrs. Melvin Mills of South Street.

Mr. and Mrs. Russell Seaman of Savage Road and house guest, Mrs. Myrtle Sherlock of Glendale, Ariz., have been busy this past week with various activities. They were luncheon guests on Friday of Mr. and Mrs. Dan Abraham of Auburn Heights, spent Monday at Bloomfield Hills with the Gorga family, and later in the week they entertained Russell's three sisters, Mrs. William Flattery of Northville, Mrs. Doris Schneider of Wyandotte, and Mrs. Wendel Kolster of Taylor.

Mr. and Mrs. George Robson of Tyler Road were Sunday dinner guests of the Don Zimmer family of Charlotte.

Mr. and Mrs. Randy Nollf, with Ami and Michael, moved last Wednesday from Edison Street back to Norfolk, Va. where he will be stationed with the U.S. Navy.

Mr. and Mrs. Edgar Quinley of Sumpter Road spent last weekend at Mecosta.

Weekend guests at the Madelon Street home of Mayor and Mrs. Justin Emerson were their son, Richard and wife and their baby son, Michael, of Lansing.

WET the BED?

FREE INFORMATION ON BED WETTING

Information on Bedwetting - send for a FREE booklet on how to stop bedwetting in the privacy of your home.

"Bedwetting is Serious and Harmful . . .

If you have a bedwetter in your home, I strongly urge you to take steps at once to end it. The correction of bedwetting is an important mental health aid. It is very harmful to the child, distressing to the parents and can lead to very serious complications later on in life. Don't be blind to this problem no matter what you have been told by anyone else. Do something about it and do it now.

Joseph G. Molner, M.D.,
Master Public Health

BED WETTING IS CORRECTABLE

Many procedures such as restricting liquids, taking a child to the bathroom on a schedule, scolding, etc. do not end bedwetting. It can be stopped as early as 3 years of age. It should definitely be stopped before school age.

The most serious mistake parents make is to wait for the child to outgrow bedwetting, because there are millions of adults who never outgrow it.

By LEE SMITH
Suburban Living Editor

Seems I churned up a couple peoples' blood pressure last Wednesday (or tickled their funny bones) with my "Why is it?" I guess I had NOTHING to moan about compared to two New Boston neighbors who'd shared this column last week over coffee and grapefruit (they're dieting).

"You think YOU have something to complain about!" they wrote (and, dang, I wish you gals wouldn't request anonymity!) "Now that your kids are obviously grown, do you remember when the phone always rang the minute you started to change a diaper? A..... messy one?"

Do you remember your kids tugging at your jeans and doing the "mama, mama, mama" bit the minute you got on the phone?" (Indeed I do!)

"Do you remember how they ALWAYS got sick on the weekends?" (They still do...)

"And did you ever put a cake in the oven and forget to set the timer? And the cake was for a special occasion and it turned out scorched?" (No, but I sure remember how they always were flops when I was expecting company.)

"Or how about leaving the house and forgetting you had the tea kettle on?" (Yup, yup, yup -- there were a few good years for tea kettle sales and I FINALLY opted for a whistlin' number.)

In their cute, most appreciated note, the duo continued, "And what about your husband (BG, right?) -- does he always manage to bring home one of his buddies on the very day you decide to tint your hair?" (No, thank God -- he'd never chance that having seen what a fright I can be!)

"Or did you ever turn all your husband's underwear pink by getting one of the kids red socks in the white washing?" (Not pink, but a navy sock can sure make everything an ugly tattletale grey.)

"And did you ever drop mustard on your brand new white pantsuit the first time you wore it?" (Not on a pantsuit but practically everything I DID mess up with that darn yellow stuff WAS white! How about grass stains, though? Do your kids ALWAYS get grass stains on the good white things they own?)

"My friend Erma here and I could rattle on for another 20 minutes but we've got to go," they concluded. "The toilet just ran over, the cat is on the counter cleaning up the breakfast dishes and the little one just pulled the knobs off the TV set. We'd better go!"

Thank you mighty "Miss Fortunes" (that's the way they signed their note) for a delightful intro to this week's missive. You two must have a good time over your Sanka ("which we drink to keep our nerves from shattering" they also mentioned.) Would LOVE to meet you!

It's rah-rah time again, the fall of the year when we cheer on our favorite college or pro teams -- getting together a few hours ahead of kick-off time for those eat and drink tailgate parties.

And what, besides plenty of hot or cold drinks (as the weather may deem) is more important than food to satisfy those autumn-inspired appetites?

Last year at this time we ran recipes contributed by our readers and, once again, we'd be happy to include your favorite football menus in "potpourri".

From a special little Tailgate Recipe Book published by AAA, I picked out the following salad which could well fill the bill for those Saturdays still holding onto summer temperatures.

The chicken, sour cream and poppyseed are what appealed as "something different."

TAILGATE MACARONI SALAD

- 2 cups elbow macaroni (8 ozs.)
- 2 1/2 cups diced cooked chicken
- 1/2 cup diced green pepper
- 1 cup diced celery
- one-third cup sliced radishes
- 1 cup dairy sour cream
- 2 tsp. poppy seed
- 1/2 tsp. garlic salt
- 3/4 tsp. salt
- 1/8 tsp. pepper
- 2 to 3 tsp. horseradish

Cook macaroni as directed on package, drain, rinse and drain again. Combine remaining ingredients; toss with macaroni and chill. Turn into wide-mouth vacuum jug or into thermo serving dishes. Makes 4 to 6 servings.

THIS IS THE DAY IT HAPPENED... ON SEPTEMBER 17

IN 1787 -- The Constitution of the United States was completed and signed by a majority of the 55 delegates attending the Constitutional Convention in Philadelphia.

IN 1862 -- Gen. George B. McClellan, commander of the Union forces, hurled back Gen. Robert E. Lee's invasion of Maryland in the Battle of Antietam.

IN 1930 (AND ONE DAY EARLIER, ON SEPT. 16) -- A wee babe, who was to grow up and become a member of the fourth estate (the journalism profession), made his way into the world. A member of Associated Newspapers editorial staff, he's none other than Jim Bradley. Happy BIG ONE, James.

IN 1936 -- The radio program "Major Bowes' Amateur Hour" bowed in and started a trend toward "talent contests" in American radio programs.

IN 1939 -- Russia invaded Poland in World War II.

IN 1947 -- On the 160th anniversary of the signing of the Constitution, the Freedom Train set out from Philadelphia carrying documents tracing U. S. history from the discovery of the American mainland to the creation of the United Nations.

IN 1947 -- James V. Forrestal was sworn in as the nation's first Secretary of Defense.

IN 1974 (AND ONE DAY EARLIER, ON SEPT. 16) -- President Gerald R. Ford proposed to offer conditional amnesty to those Vietnam era draft evaders and military deserters who would be willing to work up to two years in public service jobs. The announcement of the plan had been delayed from its scheduled Sept. 10 date because Ford had been tied up with his decision to grant former Pres. Richard M. Nixon an unconditional pardon.

As you may have surmised from the many book reviews I've included in "potpourri", I do not lean toward science-fiction and have not followed the popular trend toward the supernatural. BUT -- having had a good friend (whose literary taste I appreciate) send over "The House Next Door" without one word of praise or criticism, I figured it must be good... that she figured I'd like it.

So -- opened Anne Rivers Siddons novel one rainy evening and found 346 pages of a real "thriller", one I hated to put down. With the devastating evil of a house as the basis for her story, Siddons constructs one heckuva tale which involves... not only the three families who come to live in "it" but the effects its proximity has on the neighborhood.

Her characters -- the Harralsons, Sheehans and Greenes who find their lives destroyed and the Kennedys, Swansons and Guthries, the neighbors who become involved -- are vividly drawn and tremendously exciting.

One could almost come to believe a house not only has a personality but a mind. And in this one, an all-pervasive evil and destructive mind.

I found my first adventure with Siddons refreshingly off-beat (for me) and interesting enough to merit a request for her other two books, "Heartbreak Hotel" and "John Chancellor Makes Me Cry" at the library (and without knowing a thing about 'em.)

THE BOTTOM LINE: Love of money is the root of half the evil in the world and lack of money is the root of the other half.

It's been a good year for Capt. Nemo's

It's been a very good softball season for Captain Nemo's men's team.

Not only did the four-time Romulus Class A league champ chalk up an enviable 61-13 won-lost record, but the champs picked up the Lincoln Park Open Tournament title and continued to win four-of-seven tournaments including the world qualifiers at Jonesville, Van Buren and Carleton Opens.

Those victories enabled Capt. Nemo to qualify for the World "C" Tournament staged recently in Milwaukee where, with a 5-2 record (both losses were by one run), they finished 13th out of a field of 80 teams.

Nemo's launched the world tournament with a 11-3 victory over Swiss Valley Lanes of Indiana. In the opening game Nemo's came-from-behind and scored six runs in the third inning and went on to victory. Dan Cordle pounded out a perfect 4-for-4, while Charlie Petrillo also was perfect at the plate, collecting three hits in as many trips.

In Game No. 2, Nemo's edged a tough People's Bank of Kentucky 3-1. The duel was highlighted by superb defensive plays. Gary Delano came up with some acrobatic catches in left-center field, while pitcher Willie Boone also produced some thrills.

Playing its third game of the day proved costly as errors doomed the weary Romulus-based contingent as it dropped a cliffhanger 6-5 to Corner's Market of Cincinnati, Ohio. Nemo's led 5-4 going into the last of the seventh when losing on a controversial play. Tom McCloskey and Tom Block each batted three for three for the losers.

Starting early the next day, in the loser's bracket, Nemo's not wanting to go home just yet, avoided being sent packing by defeating Ross Breweries Indiana in a squeaker, 4-3. The big hit was a triple by Willie Boone leading the bottom of the seventh. Bob Meyers sacrificed him in with the winning run.

Coming back a couple of hours later, Nemo's finally came face-to-face with a fellow Michigan team, Click Club out of Riverview.

After falling behind 7-2 after four innings, Nemo's put on a flurry with three runs in each of the sixth and seventh innings to pull out victory.

Leading Nemo's was Cordle with a four-for-four performance.

Getting three hits apiece were Bob Meyers, Charlie Petrillo and Kevin Christensen.

Playing K.B.J. Chevrolet of hometown Milwaukee, Wisconsin, Capt. Nemo's won 8-7 in ten innings. Big hitters once again Cordle, Petrillo, and Boone.

Coming off a ten inning game and about to play their third game in a row, Nemo's came out tired and injured. After falling behind 9-2 at the end of four innings to the Loggers of Illinois, Nemo's once again rallied with four runs in the fifth and two more in the sixth. In the fifth, consecutive singles by James Hinojosa, Cordle and Petrillo brought home one run and a double by Boone scored two more. Boone scored on a single by Gary Delano.

In the sixth, Nemo's scored twice more on a single by Molnar, a triple by Hinojosa and a single by Petrillo. The score was now 9-8 after six innings.

In the seventh, Bob Meyers doubled with one out but Nemo's failed to score, losing 9-8.

Ruark is back on Brown '11'

Westlander Tim Ruark a sophomore running back on the Brown football team, is one of 85 players who reported for the opening of pre-season practice sessions.

Brown, which posted a 6-3 record last season while finishing second in the Ivy League standings, is rated a leading contender for Ivy honors again this season under the direction of Head Coach John Anderson. Heading into his eighth year at Brown, Anderson has become the most successful football coach in the school's history, directing his teams to an overall record of 42-18-2 during the past seven years.

Brown will open its 1980 season on Sept. 20 when it hosts defending Ivy champion Yale at Brown Stadium. The Bruins will also host Bucknell (9-27), Penn (10-11), Holy Cross (10-25), Dartmouth (Homecoming on 11-15), and Rhode Island on Thanksgiving Day at 10:30 a.m. All other games, both home and away, (Princeton, 10-14... Cornell, 10-18... Harvard, 11-1... Columbia, 11-22), will start at 1:30 p.m.

Ruark, who possesses the ability to find open area, could see considerable action this fall. Last year on the freshman team, he lead the Cubs in rushing. In a 24-6 victory over Naval Prep, Ruark had 23 carries for 125 yards. Against the Boston University junior varsity he eluded four tacklers for a 10-yard touchdown run.

A graduate of Westland John Glenn High School, Ruark earned three letters in football playing for Coach Chuck Gordon.

Tigers run up against Dearborn

Belleville and Coach Dave Medley got a sneak preview of things to come in the Suburban 8 Conference cross country world last week when the Tigers ran in the 11-team Dearborn Invitational.

Dearborn, the perennial conference power, won its own invitational, leaving second to Belleville by 23 points. The Pioneers racked up 38 points to Belleville's 61.

"Dearborn has another tough team," said Medley who will open the league campaign on Thursday against the champs at Metropolitan Park. "I figure them, Edsel Ford and us fighting it out this year."

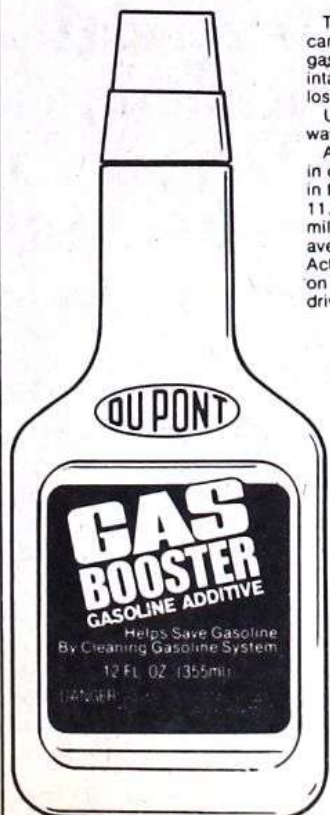

Belleville had two invitational medalists as John Conrad and Allan Hoelzel finished sixth and seventh in a field of more than 120 runners.

After losing its out-of-league dual opener to Adrian, Belleville, bounced back to swamp area rivals, Romulus, 20-43, and Ypsilanti, 41-20. Using different line-ups, Medley had no problems either day. Against Ypsilanti, Conrad turned in a 17:31 for the 5,000 meters to post a victory. He was followed to the finish line by Hoelzel, who was clocked in 17:56.

Belleville's Al Szemak, Mark Barrera, and Scott Boyd were fourth, fifth and sixth against the Braves. Romulus took first with Randy Given, a senior who covered the three miles in 16:52, but the next five runners were Belleville jerseys. Second was Todd Mlsna (17:13), followed by Scott Boyd, Del Magee, Richard Witmer and Robert Clark.

Now-when you need it most: DuPont GAS BOOSTER can help pave the way to better mileage.

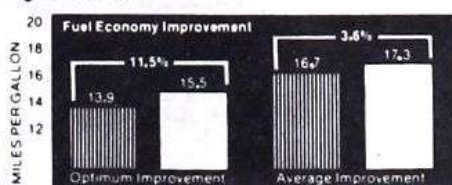

Not available at Elmwood Park or Lakeside

The fuel-saving benefits of Du Pont GAS BOOSTER can be more important than ever with the rising cost of gasoline. A dirty fuel system - including the carburetor, intake manifold, ports and valves - can cause you to lose valuable mileage.

Used as directed, GAS BOOSTER can help pave the way to better mileage.

An extensive 10,000-mile road test of GAS BOOSTER in cars with dirty fuel systems showed an improvement in fuel economy ranging from 0.8% all the way up to 11.5%. Mileage was measured during the last 4,000 miles. The average improvement was 3.6% - an average of 12 extra miles per 20-gallon tank of gas. Actual mileage improvement will, of course, depend on the condition of your fuel system, trip length and driving conditions.

Plus helps give smoother engine performance. GAS BOOSTER helps clean your carburetor and your entire fuel system while you drive. Continued use will help keep your engine clean and help give smoother idling, less hesitation and better acceleration.

...and helps save on tune-up costs. Buy several bottles today and use as directed for best results. For leaded and unleaded gas...

High Tar Smokers Convert To Merit.

"Best tasting low tar I've tried," report MERIT smokers in latest survey.

Taste Quest Ends

Latest research provides solid evidence that MERIT is a satisfying long-term taste alternative to high tar cigarettes.

Smoker Tests Offer More Proof

Long-Term Satisfaction: In the latest survey of former high tar smokers who have switched to MERIT, 9 out of 10 reported they continue to enjoy smoking, are glad they switched, and reported MERIT is the best tasting low tar they've ever tried.

Blind Taste Tests: In tests where brand identity was concealed, a significant majority of smokers rated the taste of low tar MERIT as good as—or better than—leading high tar brands. Even cigarettes having twice the tar.

Smoker Preference: Among the 95% of smokers stating a preference, the MERIT low tar/good taste combination was favored 3 to 1 over high tar leaders when tar levels were revealed.

MERIT is the proven alternative to high tar smoking. And you can taste it.

Pictorial highlights of Romulus' grid victory

Eagles shut out Garden City East to post first triumph

Sack of the quarterback

With his arms and hands raised high, Romulus defensive end Jeff Wensko (71) retreats after he sacked Garden City East's quarterback. The two teams duelled until the closing minutes before Romulus broke a scoreless deadlock and won a 7-0 decision thanks to a 25-yard touchdown pass to Dale Eddings from quarterback Marty Knight. There was a mere 1:58 left in the game when Knight came up with the strike, he also booted the extra point.

Line of confrontation

Games are won "in the pit" most grid strategists agree, and the "pit" is the visible line of confrontation between the defense and offense. Romulus' line handled Garden City

East in its duel under the rains Friday and eked out a 7-0 victory, the first win of the season for Coach Don Foley's Eagles.

Splashdown

A slippery turf and a Garden City East defender got into the way of Romulus running back John Rupert (25) who is brought down on this play Friday. Rupert and the Eagles managed to survive the rains and a pesky East defense to post their first victory of the young campaign 7-0. They'll go after No. 2 win on Friday when they take on another tenacious team at Ann Arbor Huron.

Perfect softball summer for Capt. Nemo's

Capturing their fourth consecutive Romulus Class A slo-pitch softball championship, Capt. Nemo's took a 61-13 season record to the World Tournament staged in Wisconsin and returned with a 13th place in a field of 30 superb teams. Members of the 1980 Capt. Nemo's team are: Bob Gumtow (kneeling, from left) Willie Boone, Harold Belanger, Kevin Shristenson and Bob Meyers;

That's a lot of fish

Noah Hamilton, 45, of Romulus, shows his young neighbor, Kristin Young, 3, what he caught on a recent fishing expedition near Muskegon in Lake Michigan. His catch, seen hanging from polie in his yard, are a 25-pound king salmon, one laker and five steelheads. Hamilton smokes the salmon on a portable smoker and enjoys the delicacy the year around.

Clearing an Easterly obstacle

Although an East defender manages to slip through the Romulus line of defense, Marty Knight gets this point after kick up and between the uprights to give the Eagles a 7-0 lead in the fourth period. That lead should up for the margin of victory.
